FUN, ACADEMICS & ENRICHMENT

Springboard is a Whole New Approach to After School

Springboard After School is a unique program that meets the needs of today's parents and their children by providing the best after school academic instruction and test preparation with the most popular physical and creative activities for kids in grades K-8. Springboard is not a “baby sitting” service; it is a remarkable learning environment where certified teachers help individual children realize their full potential at a cost comparable to other after school programs.

How Springboard Works

- Springboard uses part of the afternoon for kids to have fun with games, sports, enrichment programs and if available clubs such as music, art, robotics, karate, chess, languages and more.
- Springboard uses the rest of the afternoon for academics. Your children work with our professional teachers to make sure most if not all of their homework is complete and understood.

- Importantly, Springboards teachers work with your children's school teachers to understand what academic subjects your child might need help with.

At the end of your day, when you pick up your child, homework will be complete or well planned. Now, there is no more stress negotiating when and how to complete most homework. Relax, your children will be safe after school and – will be using their time productively to advance academically, to identify new talents, and to have fun doing the things they love to do.
